£45,000 REBATE

"In 2012/13, we worked closely with Cobalt Water's advisors on a disputed Business Stream invoice relating to a (long running!) water leak supplying one of our facilities. Taking into account their own fees, Cobalt's advisors still saved us over £45k. This was a huge saving which we were thus able to reinvest into the School."

£24,000 ANNUAL SAVING

The Glasgow School of Art asked us to perform an efficiency audit on their main site in Glasgow. Amongst the several potential cost saving areas our specialists identified were urinal controls, a cheap and effective method of cutting water usage in high occupancy buildings.

We subsequently arranged the installation of urinal controls throughout the building and that measure alone will reduce their water costs by around £24,000 per annum.
